ICE HARVEST MONDAY

Thousands of Tons Will Be Gathered Very Soon.

IF WEATHER CONTINUES COLD

Local Dealers Are Preparing For the Annual Gathering—The Pan Handle Will Cut a Great Deal.

The cold weather of the past few days has covered the basins with a beautiful coating of ice and ice dealers are preparing to harvest the crop.

Work will begin early Monday morning if the severe weather continues. At present the ice is eight inches in thickness, and by that time it will be ten. Another night or two like last night will increase it perhaps two inches, a thickness which makes glad the heart of every iceman in town. Some preliminary work is now being done, and the big refrigerators are being prepared for the thousands of tons that will be stored in them within the next few weeks.

The J. S. Elliott icehouse has a capacity of 4,000 tons and is located on the upper side of the middle basin. Renner Brothers could not give THE AGE the exact capacity of their houses farther up the canal. But enough ice will be harvested to provide the city with ice during the summer if it is not a sizzling season such as was last year.

The Pan Handle has not commenced to gather ice yet, but in a short time its force will be at work on the Conesville basin. Car load after car load will be cut and taken away until thousands of tons have been moved. Some will go to Dennison, but the greater part will be shipped to Columbus for use on the southwest system during next summer. The plan by which the ice is cut and loaded is the most improved method of the company's engineers.

PASSED RAISED BILL

Smooth Stranger Made Money by The Transaction.

ONE WAS CHANGED TO A FIVE

By Placing Figures at the Required Places. L. B. Barcroft was the Victim and Still Has the Money.

A stranger who knows the art of swindling to some degree made $4.85 by passing a raised bill at the store of L. B. Barcroft on Walnut street.

The fellow entered the store without more embarrassment than if he was about to purchase a pound of butter with honest coin and asked for 10 cents worth of candy and an orange. He addressed W. E. Barcroft, Mr. Barcroft's son, and secured what he wanted. In payment he threw down a bill and the young man told him to pass it to his father who stood near the money drawer. This he did and glancing at the bill long enough to see it was $5 the elder Barcroft gave him $4.85 in good money. The man hastily left the store forgetting his candy. The clerk called him back. He returned in a hurry, secured the package and crossed the street. On the other side he looked back in a suspicious manner and hastened on his way.

That evening the representative of a concern from which Mr. Barcroft buys stock called to collect a bill. The amount was paid and he went to his hotel. There he looked over the money and found a $5 bill that was not what it seemed. It was a $1 bill with figures five, evidently cut from stamps, cleverly pasted over the ones. The job was well done, and only close inspection would show the counterfeit. The salesman returned the bill to Mr. Barcroft who at once gave him a good bill and closed the account.

The man who presented the raised bill was dressed in light felt hat with white band, light overcoat and clothes of modest color. He probably weighs 150 pounds and his general appearance is one of neatness. The man has been seen on the streets a number of times since he passed the bill. The matter has been placed in the hands of the police.

PROGRESS IS SLOW

But Work on the New Passenger Station is Well Done.

Workmen on the new Pan Handle passenger station are not making fast time but they are doing their work well.

The station looks as substantial as a building of its character can look, and it promises to be almost a pleasant disappointment for Coshocton. Its size is now the principal feature against it.

TOO COLD TO WORK.

Nothing Being Done on the Kissner Well Near the Infirmary.

John Kissner has not struck gas near the infirmary, and nothing is being done at present because of the cold weather.

The drill is not far from the sand, and as soon as the weather moderates operations will be resumed. Kissner is confident he will get gas although the showing in the Lafayette field is not the most encouraging imaginable.

LIVE BIRD SHOOT

Is Taking Place on the Hill This Afternoon For a Purse.

A number of enthusiasts are on the hill this afternoon enjoying a live bird shoot. A purse has been hung up for the event, and some of the best marksmen in the city will take part. The day is ideal for the sport and good shooting is expected.

Live pigeons are being used; the wing shots being satisfied better results as to marksmanship can be obtained.

GREAT CROWD

Enjoyed the Sport at the Middle Basin Thursday Night.

The excellent skating attracted hundreds of people to the middle basin Friday evening, and the best sport in a number of years was enjoyed.

Coshocton and Roscoe people made up the bulk of the crowd, but many persons from Canal Lewisville and a number of other places were there. The canal is frozen and makes a good skating surface.

THE VEHICLE COMPANY

Is Pushing the New Building as Rapidly as Possible.

The Coshocton Vehicle company is doing its best to have its building completed at the earliest opportunity, but the cold weather has seriously retarded progress. As soon as the temperature raises work will be resumed.

Owing to the slow progress made by the use of stone it was found advisable to complete the work with tile.

TO KEEP THE TRACKS

Nothing in a Story Concerning the Wheeling & Lake Erie.

NEW FREIGHT DEPOT PROMISED

Carpenters are Expected Every Day to Begin the Work of Adding One Hundred Feet to the Structure.

The Wheeling & Lake Erie will not lift the track from the Pan Handle to Hill station but instead will make extensive improvements on its down town property.

The story has been in circulation for several days that the company had grown tired of paying taxes on the track between Hill station and the Pan Handle along Orange street and would remove its freight depot to the hill. This would allow it to take up the track and abandon the right of way on the street as well as its down town terminals.

"You can say there is nothing in that story," said Agent Davies to THE AGE. "Instead of abandoning the down town property the company will improve it and spend a considerable amount of money. Plans have been drawn for a new freight depot, and we are expecting the construction force any day. Our present building is 70 feet long and to it will be added 100 feet. The offices will be changed and made more comfortable, giving ample room for the handling of our growing business. Loading and unloading can be done on either side of the new station and every convenience for the rapid moving of freight will be there. We have every reason to believe it will be a model freight building in every respect."

NO BUILDING NOW.

Low Temperature Has Shut Off All New Work.

The cold weather of the past few days has prevented the starting of work on new houses and the continuing of work on many houses recently started. A number of residences will be started as soon as the weather permits.

Among the residences to be built next spring will be one by John Kissner on South Ninth street in the board of trade first addition.

Coal Operators' Notice.

The local mine operators, on account of the difference arising in price of coal delivered to the consumer in the town of Coshocton, held a meeting Wednesday evening, Jan. 2, 1901, for the purpose of considering the price that should be charged per ton for good lump coal delivered. And not being able, or desiring on account of the miners' union, to reduce the price now paid mine laborers, or enlarge the mine cars thus causing the miners to mine more coal for the same money, and to maintain the price now paid teamsters for hauling the same, and desiring to give the consumer full weight and measure, it was found to be impossible to deliver coal for less than $2.25 per ton and leave living wages for the operators.

This price has become necessary on account of the meeting held by the labor unions and operators in April, 1900, at which meeting a material advance was made on all class of mine work, consisting of entry driving, room turning, break throughs and day labor, also in mining, which increase amounting in the aggregate to about 38 cents per ton, together with an advance of 12½ cents per ton to teamsters, making a total of 50 cents advance on each ton of coal delivered. Therefore be it

RESOLVED, that the price of coal delivered in the town of Coshocton or or elsewhere, by the undersigned local mine operators be established at $2.25 per "lump" ton.

UNION LABEL

Gone to Pieces.

About three years ago the Christian Commonwealth colony was founded in Muscogee county, Ga., a few miles from Columbus, by 40 men and women, with some children, from Ohio. They were an exceptionally intelligent and worthy body of people. Plain cottages were built, and a common dining hall, which was also used for religious services, was established. The first year was a prosperous one. Fine crops were raised and good prices secured for the products. A sawmill was built, a grist mill and a broom factory were profitably operated, and a dairy not only furnished the community with all the milk and butter needed, but afforded a surplus for the market. Then new members came and trouble began. Many shirked their work, gossip and scandal became rife, debts were incurred which there was no money to meet, and now it is announced that the colony has gone to pieces.—New York Tribune.

Danger In Antifat Remedies.

The newspapers tell of a man out in Indiana brought to the point of death as the result of the use of remedies for obesity. Two years ago the man weighed 350 pounds. He began to take anti fat remedies. He lost flesh rapidly, but impaired his constitution. Ulceration of the stomach and liver set in, and an Indianapolis specialist was called and said his death was only a matter of time. Antifat remedies, as a rule, are dangerous and should be avoided. The most effective and sensible remedies for obesity are exercise and proper diet. Massage, which has the same effect as exercise in a degree, may also be recommended, but walking, horseback riding or any other activity in the open air, if persisted in regularly, will not fail to reduce the flesh, and that is a normal and healthy way. If at the same time the patient will put himself on a simple diet, which may be prescribed by any physician, the desired result will be still further hastened.—Leslie's Weekly.

PUT TO THE TEST.

Public Endorsement is what Counts.

Everybody has their hour of trouble,
But people having any itchiness of the skin
Have many hours of trouble.
Nothing so annoying. Nothing so irritating.
Scratch it, it becomes worse.
Leave it alone and you can hardly stand the misery.
Itchiness comes in many forms.
Eczema and horrid itching piles.
Relief and cure are here at last.
Thousands have put it to the test.
Doan's Ointment cures every form of itchiness of the skin.
Read the following statement.

Mr. William N. Steel, of 269½ High street, south, Columbus O., conveyancer, says: "I have no hesitation in recommending Doan's Ointment as a thoroughly reliable preparation for rectal troubles and eczema. I supposed it was eczema, as there was a breaking out on my hand which itched continually and burned so that I was compelled to rub it constantly. Doan's Ointment cured the affliction at once, and also another trouble resembling hemorrhoids, and up to date there has been no indication of its return, although the cure was performed over six months ago. I cannot say too much in praise of Doan's Ointment, and anyone suffering as I did who uses it will be quite as enthusiastic in its praise as I am."

Doan's Ointment for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Mailed on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N.Y., sole agents for the United States.

NOVEL GAME OF SKILL.

Facts About One Called Checker Football.

SIMPLE OUTFIT IS REQUIRED.

Chess or Checker Board, With Twelve Colored Checkermen For Each Player, Needed—Rules of the Game and How It Is Played—A Sample Game.

Checker football, a new game of skill which has become popular among the author's personal friends, is presented to the student public in the hope that it may find favor on account of its intrinsic merit and because of its suggestions of the glorious football field, says the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune. Its resemblance to that game, like the resemblance of chess to military movements, is of a general character, slavish imitation being impossible.

The outfit required is simply a chess or checker board, with 12 colored checkermen for each player. A single disk is called a runner, and a pile of two disks is styled a back. If the two disks are of the same color, it is a full back. If of opposite colors, it is a half back and belongs to the player whose disk is on top

Each player begins the game with four full backs and four runners. Two full backs are stationed on the centermost squares of the transverse row nearest home and the others directly in front on the two centermost squares of the second row. The runners are placed in a wider line in front of the full backs on the four centermost squares of the third row.

No piece is ever removed from the field, but the object of the game is to advance your runners toward your goal row (your opponent's home row), at the same time hindering his advance. No piece can jump over a man which stands in its way.

The movements of the pieces are made as follows.

1. Runners move one square at a time and always forward—either directly forward or obliquely.

2. When one runner is less advanced than any other runner of the same color, it may if the player choose move two squares instead of one. This is called "punting."

3. Full and half backs move in any direction—forward, backward, sideways or obliquely to front or rear. They stop always on the nearest square of the same color with the one previously occupied, thus moving one square at a time when traveling obliquely, in other directions two squares at a time, no more, no less.

Following are the cross plays:

1. Besides the above moves the owner of a full or half back may play it by taking off its upper component disk (the lower disk remaining in place and becoming a runner) and putting it on top of any runner which may stand in the same open row directly to right or left.

2 Between a full back and a runner of the same color such a cross play is termed a "toss." Between a full back and an opponent's runner it is a "tackle." Between a half back and a runner belonging to the same player it is a "fumble." Between half back and opposing runner it is a "countertoss." All forms of cross play are occasionally advantageous, but should be used with caution.

3. No runner except when punting can move on to a square where it will expose itself to the possibility of being tackled. Hence your full backs are of the greatest possible use in blocking your opponent's advance. Both kinds of backs also act as "interference" to shield the advance of your own runners.

Rules on scoring are as follows:

1. To win the game you must first procure a "touchdown" by getting one of your runners into the goal row and then "kick the goal" by moving one of your backs any distance along any straight line and setting it three stories high upon the said runner. Intervening men are in this case no impediment. Goal kicking here, as elsewhere, is a midair performance.

2. The decisiveness of your victory depends on the position of your opponent's men at the close. If he could kick a goal at the very next move, your score is 1-0. If he has a touchdown on the board, but no back able to kick the goal immediately, it is 2-0. If he has no touchdown, but could secure one at the next move, it is 3-0. If his most advanced runner is a single step from the goal now, but incapable of immediate advance, it is 4-0 Likewise the score is 5-0 or 6-0 if his foremost runner is two steps from the goal row and 7-0 or 8-0 if three steps

In the following sample game r equals runner, p punt, f full back, h half back, ts toss, tk tackle, fm fumble, td touchdown, gl goal. The squares are numbered like houses in city blocks, 11 to 18 from left to right in white's home row, 21 to 28 in the second row, and so on.

What It Is, Why It Is and How It May Be Avoided.

Ten years ago the word "appendicitis" was practically unknown even to the majority of physicians. When the first sheets of the Century Dictionary were issued, about 15 years ago, a reward was offered to any one who would point out a word that had been omitted. The word "appendicitis" was not in the original sheets, yet no one claimed the reward. And no wonder, for it was not until 1888 that Dr. Reginald Fitz of Boston applied the name "appendicitis" to a series of conditions that had often been noted before, but had never been properly understood.

Now "appendicitis" is one of the most familiar of household words. It seems paradoxical, then, to say that appendicitis is not more frequent than it used to be, yet this is absolutely true. A new and more exact name has come into vogue, but not a new disease. Twenty years ago two causes of death were very prevalent that are scarcely heard of now. They were inflammation of the bowels and peritonitis. We heard of a friend's indiscretion in diet being followed by colic; then inflammation of the bowels set in, and death ensued, or an acquaintance, traveling at a distance from surgical aid, was stricken with peritonitis, and before relief could be afforded was dead.

It is surprising that the discovery that these serious abdominal affections practically always begin in the appendix should have been left to an American medical man of our day. All over Europe hundreds of autopsies were made every year in which the role of the appendix as the primary cause of the fatal illness is now manifest. The key to the mystery of most of the serious abdominal affections lay for years right under the eyes of every maker of many autopsies. It was contained in an organ, however, that was thought to be unimportant. Needless to say it was missed. When American surgeons first insisted that practically all intestinal colic was due to inflammation of the appendix and that most of the fatal peritonitis originated in this obscure little organ, they were scoffed at by men, who said ironic things about the lack of judicial conservatism in their enterprising American colleagues. Now the importance of appendicitis is fully recognized, though due credit is not given to American inventive acumen for the discovery.

It is the custom to think that appendicitis is due to some cause immediately preceding the development of the symptoms. Nothing could well be less true. The condition which causes the appendix to become acutely inflamed usually dates back for many years. What is constantly found in diseased appendixes after their removal is a stricture—that is, a narrowing of the canal of the appendix. When the canal of the small, lead pencillike tube of the appendix becomes very narrow at some point, it takes but little to shut it up entirely. Some disturbance of digestion or a cold or a blow sends more blood than usual to the intestines. This causes the mucous membrane of the intestine and of the appendix, which is part of the intestine, to swell. This swelling closes entirely the narrowed canal of the appendix, and then the trouble begins. Bacteria are always present in the appendix because of its connection with the intestine, where they swarm. As long as the exit is free these germs are not dangerous. As soon as they are confined their rapid multiplication, without chance of escape, makes them deadly. They rupture the appendix, and if they do not find some way out of the body death is inevitable.

The strictures of the appendix that are the prime cause of the trouble are not congenital—that is, are not present at birth—but are acquired. Most of them result from severe intestinal disease in childhood. Some of them follow typhoid fever or dysentery, or influenza of the intestines. The most important factor is undoubtedly the colitis of childhood—that is, the inflammation of the large intestines—so frequent in the early years of life.

Appendicitis has been always with us. It can be unmistakably traced through history. Many a supposed case of poisoning was in reality only a rapidly fatal appendicitis. Chapters of history will have to be rewritten with this in mind. Our generation will not escape its share in the dangers of appendicial evolution. We can individually lessen our chances of suffering by avoiding all forms of intestinal irritation. Especially does the chronic congestion that accompanies constipation seem to predispose to appendicitis. Constipation precedes an acute appendicitis in 90 per cent of the cases. Not the spasmodic catharsis of drugs, but the regular action of nature is the surest safeguard against appendicitis.—Dr. J. J. Walsh in New York Journal.

Egyptian Princess For Sale.

"Lot 270a," said an English auctioneer, "is a princess, an Egyptian princess, in a mummied condition. There it is, a very perfect mummy."

Of a truth, it is an irreverent age, a dull, vandal, detestably democratic age, in which a daughter of Rameses II, together with two X ray full plate photographs, showing the preservation of her bones, can be hawked in a Covent Garden salesroom for £10 10s., says a London newspaper.

True, she was, as the auctioneer put it, in a mummied condition. But what of that! Was it, then, for this that she slept for 30 centuries amid the dust of the kings of the earth? Was it for this that the cunning embalmer, when the world was young, lapped her tender limbs in spices, swathed her unsullied body in fine twined linen, for £10 10s.?

Had it, now, been the dead clay of imperial Cæsar one would have minded less. In this case Shakespeare prepared us for some such thing, but an Egyptian royal princess, one of the 119 daughters and sons of Sotep-en-Ra Ramessu-meri-Amen, "who knew not Joseph," to be lying here on a bench, her sarcophagus burst open, sniggered at by bargain hunters! Was it revenge?

"A royal mummy for £10 10s. That's absurd," moaned the auctioneer. "It's worth that to a paint manufacturer."

This was the end.

SHOT BY AN OFFICER.

Count Von Waldersee Meets a Tragic Death In Peking.

SUCH A REPORT CURRENT IN EUROPE.

Russia Negotiating to Restore the Tien Tsin Railway to Great Britain, Saddled With Harrowing Conditions. China Ready to Sign Peace Agreement—Oriental Situation.

Paris, Jan. 4.—Le Journal reports, under reserve, the death of Count Von Waldersee, the rumor being that he was killed by an officer of the allied troops, the circumstances not being related. It is said that the rumor is current in Berlin, where it is not confirmed.

London, Jan. 4.—Wiring from Peking, Dr. Morrison says he believes that Prince Su, whose palace was destroyed during the siege of the legations, will be chosen to go to Berlin to apologize for the murder of Baron Von Ketteler. He says Prince Su is of higher rank than Prince Ching, and conducts the imperial sacrifices in the absence of Emperor Kwang Su.

"Russia is negotiating with Germany a convention aiming to restore the railway from Tien Tsin to Shan Hai Kwan to Great Britain," says Dr. Morrson, 'saddled with the following conditions: Russia retains half the rolling stock for the section from Shan Hai Kwan to Nieuw Chang and holds a lien on the railway for expenses incurred in repairs. She also appropriates the workshops at Shan Hai Kwan with all their contents. Great Britain is trying to modify these onerous conditions, which will probably be agreed to by Count Von Waldersee, as no German interests are involved."

China Ready to Sign.

Peking, Jan. 4.—At a meeting of the foreign ministers it was announced Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching were prepared to sign an agreement as soon as it is ready for signature. Li Hung Chang desires to conduct the peace negotiations to a conclusion, and the physicians attending him think he might be taken to the Spanish legation, where the meetings have been held, if the weather is favorable.

Americans Take No Part.

Washington, Jan. 4.—General Chaffee has cleared himself of any suspicion of participating in any of the looting expeditions which are said in some quarters to be gong on in China under the disguise of punitive expeditions. His report of the conditions under which he took his last excursion from Peking has been received at the war department by cable from Peking. He says the Americans take no part in the present offensive operations.

After Concessions.

Shanghai, Jan. 4. — The Chinese newspaper, Chung Wei-Yei-Ao, makes the following statement: The imperial rescript accepting the peace conditions instructs the Chinese commissioners, while discussing points not specified, to gain as many concessions as possible. The conditions involve 200 debatable questions."

Insurance Indictments.

Louisville, Jan. 4.—The grand jury returned a true bill against W. W. Parrish, John H. DeWitt, W. B. Cox and Sylvester Breeden, charging them with conspiring to defraud insurance companies. The indictment contains two sets of charges. In one the four persons named are accused of conspiring to obtain insurance for Breeden by representing falsely that Breeden was in sound health. In the other it is alleged that after obtaining the insurance Cox, DeWit and Parris conspired to cause the death of Breeden and thus defraud the insurance companies. Breeden carried $13,000 in three companies.

McKinley Declines.

Washington, Jan. 4.—The president sent a message to the senate declining to comply with the resolution requesting transmittal of the Lawshe report in regard to the irregularities in connection with the postal affairs in Cuba The declination is considered exceptional and it is possible it will create more or less discussion. The document referred to is claimed to be a confidential report, and as prosecutions are now pending, it is the judgment of the executive that it would not be compatible with the public interests to make public the report.

Purifying Paris.

Paris, Jan. 4.—Sweeping police measures taken to purify Paris, in consequence of the alarming situation created by the closing of the exposition and the consequent throwing out of employment of thousands of people who were dependent upon it for a living, and who in many cases were cast upon the streets, resulted in no fewer than 12,970 arrests during the month of December. The persons arrested included six murderers, 925 thieves and footpads, 2,870 tramps, 2,459 drunken people and 3,983 prostitutes.

Gold In a Duck's Craw.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—Shot gold amounting in value to nearly $25 has been found in the crop of a tame duck which was offered for sale on South Water street. Hurried efforts to trace the point from which the gold-bearing fowl was shipped to Chicago have narrowed it down to either Monticello, Ia., or Lake Zurich, Ills., and farmers in the vicinity of those places have been notified to examine the feeding grounds of their ducks. The gold is of [illegible]

IN THE CABINET

The Head of a Proposed Educational Department May Have Place.

Washington, Jan. 4.—Senator Hansbrough introduced a bill creating a department of education and giving the head of the department a place in the president's cabinet. Speaking of the object of the bill, Senator Hansbrough said that the educational interests of the country are constantly increasing, and that with the adoption of the new territory comprised in Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines, this interest would grow rapidly in scope and importance in the future. On this account, he said, he thought the head of the proposed department should be a member of the president's official household.

Pro-Boer Resolution.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 4.—A pro-Boer resolution introduced by Senator Trompen, a Republican, was briefly debated in the state senate and made a special order for next Tuesday. It recites "the deep concern of the Nebraska senate in the attempt of Great Britain to destroy the republics of South Africa," and "declares sympathy for them in their struggle against those who seek to establish over them a despotism maintained by English power and English arms."

Nebraska's New Governor.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 4.—Charles H. Dietrich was inaugurated governor of Nebraska. The ceremony was short and simple, occupying but little over an hour, being limited to the retiring message of Governor Poynter and the inaugural address of Governor Dietrich. The latter makes a record in brevity, containing about 1,000 words, limited to state matters. It advocates a strong anti-kidnaping law.

Shipwrecked Crew.

St. Johns, N. F., Jan. 4.—The crew of the British steamer Ivydene, which went ashore Tuesday night during a storm at La Minche, arrived here. One man, an Italian named Bracci, was drowned by the lifeboat swamping. Twenty of the 27 survivors were badly frost-bitten, several of them so seriously that they will have to go into hospital. The steamer broke up. Nothing was saved.

Suicided With Dynamite.

Lisbon, Me., Jan. 4.—H. E. Webber, a well-to-do farmer who lived near here, blew himself to pieces. The head, arms and upper part of his body were found on top of the barn. Notes left by Webber said that the writer had decided to kill himself by exploding dynamite cartridges. He had been acting strangely for several weeks.

Both Asphyxiated.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—John Bazinski, 85, and Bianaper Genkinski, six months old, were found dead from asphyxiation at St. Anthony's hospital. They slept in a room heated by a gas stove, which had become extinguished during the night without the flow of gas being stopped.

Oppose the Sale.

London, Jan. 4.—"Reports from the Danish West Indies," says a Copenhagen correspondent, "show a strong opposition to the sale of the islands to the United States. The question will probably be determined in the near future in the islands themselves."

Bryan In Florida.

Pensacola, Fla., Jan. 4.—William J. Bryan is in the city en route to Tallahassee to witness the inauguration of his cousin, William S. Jennings, as governor of Florida, next Tuesday.

BY FOUL GAS

Four Men Are Overcome in a Pennsylvania Coal Mine.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Jan. 4.—An accident occurred at the Pine Ridge colliery of the Algonquin Coal company which resulted in the death of two men and the fatal injury of two others. The mine, owing to a cave-in, had not been in operation for some time past, and considerable gas had accumulated in the workings. D. J. Williams, the superintendent of the mine; William Morgan, the assistant superintendent, and William Early and Martin Fortune, fire bosses, entered the mine for the purpose of devising a plan to drive an airway. All fell victims to the foul air. Williams and Morgan were taken out dead.

Victory For Labor.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—John A. Gauger, a wealthy lumberman and manufacturer, was held to the criminal court by Justice Woods for importing workmen into Chicago without informing them of the existence of strike troubles at his plant. The decision is regarded as a decided victory by the officials of the labor unions, and is important inasmuch as it is the first rendered since the law making it a criminal offense to import workmen without informing them of the existence of labor troubles was enacted.

Russian Officers and Crew.

Philadelphia, Jan. 4.—On board the American line steamer Belgenland, which arrived from Liverpool, were a chaplain, two officers and 212 seamen for the new Russian cruiser Variag, which is expected to leave Cramps' shipyard in about two weeks for the czar's dominions. The two officers are Lieutenant Sergius Hemleff and Sublieutenant Anatole Elkinoff. The Variag's crew, which is now complete, a number of them arriving some time ago, is composed of more than 500 men all told.

Confessed a Killing.

Butte, Mon., Jan. 4.—"R. G. Douglass," who was recently arrested on complaint of his wife, charged with attempting to kill her, confessed that his real name is Eldredge Williams, and that he is wanted in Wetumpka, Ala., for killing James Boswell in 1891. Williams alleges that the killing was done in self-defense and that he escaped from jail while being held for trial. He is said to belong to a prominent family in Alabama. An officer from that state is now on his way to Butte.

Stood Off by Kid Ashe.

Memphis, Jan. 4.—Bobby Dobbs, who won the lightweight championship of England by defeating Dick Burge, and "Kid" Ashe of Cincinnati met before the Phoenix Athletic club and fought 20 rounds to a draw. A wrestling match between Louis Baptiste of St. Louis and Eddie Donnelly of Boston was declared a draw.

Cudahy Coin Not Marked.

Omaha, Jan. 4.—Referring to a dispatch to the effect that all banks have been notified that the gold coin given the Cudahy abductors was marked, General John C. Cowin, Mr. Cudahy's counsel, said that the statement was untrue. There were no important developments in the Cudahy case during the day.

Schooner Bottom Up.

BRADFORD MEN WITH MONEY

Want to Make Gas Engines and Air Compressors in Coshocton.

Gray & Blairsbell, of Bradford, Pa. want to erect a factory in Coshocton for the manufacture of gas engines and air compressors. If the deal goes through they will employ 200 persons.

Secretary Boyd, of the board of trade, received a letter from the company the other day. They asked information concerning Coshocton as a shipping point, the price of labor, whether it was abundant and general questions concerning the town.

Mr. Boyd replied at once giving the information desired and informing the gentlemen that they could judge better for themselves if they would come to Coshocton and look over the field. He showed that Coshocton was rapidly advancing in population and wealth and gave the city the good words it deserves.

Should the board of trade succeed in landing the industry it will be a good help for Coshocton. There is a demand for gas engines and thousands of them are sold every year while to the present there has been no over production. The concern is probably a new one as it is not quoted in the commercial reports although the members are given as men of means.

FOR A LARGER ARMY.

Senate Devotes Its Time to a Discussion of the Bill.

A PERMANENT INCREASE OPPOSED.

Proposition Seeking Reduction of Representation from Southern States Meets With Defeat in the House. Production of Gold and Silver and the World's Money.

Washington, Jan. 4. — Without a murmur of dissent and without a word of comment the senate displaced the shipping subsidy bill from its privileged position as "unfinished business" and substituted for it the army reorganization bill. During the discussion of the army measure the opposition senators indicated that their line of attack upon the bill would be against the creation of a large, permanent standing army. There was intimation that objection would not be offered to a temporary measure to provide an adequate force to maintain the authority of the United States in the Philippines.

Mr. Hawley (Conn.) made a strong speech in support of the bill, saying the necessity for an adequate army was evident to all, and adding: "We are not altogether out of sight of some possibility of war with some European power. We do not know. They are in a great deal of trouble there, and I understand they look with very great jealousy upon our talk of a Danish island and our talk about acquiring other territory."

Mr. Pettigrew introduced a resolution calling upon the president to send to the senate "copies of all instructions sent to the officers of the government in the Philippines since May 1, 1898, and of all orders issued by officers of the government in the Philippines in relation to the conduct of the war and in relation of the government of that country."

Southern Representation.

Washington, Jan. 4.—The radical element among the house Republicans who favor cutting down the representation from southern states in which franchise is abridged suffered defeat because a number of their colleagues refused to act with them. Before the reapportionment bill could be called, Mr. Olmstead offered a resolution reciting the alleged abridgment of suffrage in Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina and North Carolina, and diresting the committee on census to investigate and report the facts to the house in order that a constitutional basis of representation could be established for those states. The leaders on the Democratic side began a filibuster. Many of the Republicans were secretly in sympathy with them, and quietly paired with absent Democrats, leaving their absent colleagues unpaired. As a result, when the question of consideration was raised against the resolution it was defeated, 81 to 83. The vote was a strict party one.

The situation with reference to the apportionment bill is greatly complicated as a result of the injection of the Olmstead resolution. Chairman Hopkins, however, is confident of victory for the bill.

Pettigrew Wants to Know.

Washington, Jan. 4.—In view of the trend of discussion upon the army reorganization bill in the senate, Mr. Pettigrew introduced the following resolution: "That the president is hereby requested, if not incompatible with the public interests, to inform the senate what necessity, if any, exists for increasing the army at this time; what are the conditions in the Philippines and how many men are required there. The president is also requested to send to the senate copies of all communications received from our officers in the Philippines, showing the conditions in that country and the number of men requred now and in the future."

World's Money.

Washington, Jan. 4.—An increase of more than 100 per cent in the money of the world within less than a generation will be one of the most interesting exhibits of the annual report of the director of the mint, which is now going through the press. Nearly the whole of this increase is in metallic money and much the larger proportion is in gold. The total stock reported in 1873 was about $4,600,000,000, of which more than half was in paper money not fully covered by metallic reserves. The situation at the beginning of 1900 showed a total money stock of about $11,600,000,000, of which only little more than one-fourth was in uncovered paper money.

Production of Gold and Silver.

Washington, Jan. 4.—George E. Roberts, the director of the mint, made public this preliminary estimate of the production of gold and silver in the United States during the calendar year 1900. The aggregate of gold is given out as 3,837,213 fine ounces, valued at $79,322,281, and of silver 59,610,543 fine ounces, which at the approximate average price of 61 cents for the year makes the value $36,362,431. The Nome gold and silver production for 1900 is given as $5,100,000, and that of the Klondike, which includes both the American and the Canadian fields, $22,287,566.

Cheaper Rubber Goods.

These remarks easily describe the kind of Scissors and Shears we have. We have them of all sizes and for all uses. Come and see them.

A Happy New Year to All!

New Year's Greeting to Good Dressers!

WE DESIRE to call your attention to the fact that this is a most excellent and opportune time to replenish your wardrobe. We are anxious to keep our fine workmen as busy as possible during January and February, these months being in the ordinary course of of business, extremely dull. Busy artisans always busy, means good ones. We are willing to sacrifice all of our legitimate profits by making up any kind of garments at greatly reduced prices.

This reduction will apply to Fall Suits, Overcoats, Trousers or Prince Alberts.

We earnestly invite your inspection of our goods and solicit your order now, and it is to your advantage more than to ours to take advantage of the dull months.

Yours truly,

HARRIS THE TAILOR

TO CURE A COUGH
